

psoriasis:

more than skin deep

a continuing educational series

Psoriasis is a complicated disease of the immune system. Not everyone who has psoriasis or psoriatic arthritis experiences the same symptoms, responds to the same treatments or develops the same associated health conditions. The one thing everyone does have in common with this disease is hope for a psoriasis-free world.

The National Psoriasis Foundation is dedicated to finding a cure and providing you with useful disease and treatment information, assistance with access-to-care resources and promising research updates.
